
Remote Work for Work-Study Students

1 message

BFS Communications <communications@bfs.ucsb.edu>
Reply-To: BFS Communications <communications@bfs.ucsb.edu>
To: ACTGNEWS-L@listserv.ucsb.edu

Tue, Mar 17, 2020 at 9:30 AM

This message is being sent on behalf of the Work-Study Unit. Please do not reply to this message**

To: UCPath Functional Users
Fr: Work-Study Unit
Re: Remote Work for Work-Study Students

Dear Departments,

Please remember that student employees are allowed to work remotely and remain Work-Study eligible. Whenever possible please allow your student employees to continue their existing work remotely or modify their duties to allow for remote work.

Work-Study is open and accepting referrals. UCSB students are talented and able to contribute in many ways through remote work. Students rely on their Work-Study earnings to pay for their educational expenses, including tuition and housing. It is important we continue to provide this vital resource. Some examples of remote work are:

- Virtual outreach/appointments: using Zoom or other virtual meeting software
- Online content review/revisions/creation
- Data entry
- Content writing for handouts/upcoming presentations/publications
- Data/financial analysis
- Customer Service via e-mail or phone
- Testing
- Social Media Coordination
- Virtual Assistant
- Coding
- Graphic Designing

The Work-Study Unit remains open and available to process referrals and handle any questions or issues departments may have. We will continue to update departments with any changes regarding Work-Study as they arise.

Best,

The Work Study Program

Office of Financial Aid & Scholarships

Office: (805) 893-2067

Email: finaidwsp@sa.ucsb.edu

UC SANTA BARBARA

--

[This message is sent from an unmonitored email account. For contact information regarding this communication, please refer to the message above. If you received this email as a forwarded message and would like to sign up for the Accounting News listserv (ACTGNEWS-L), please visit <https://www.bfs.ucsb.edu> and complete the "Add Me to the ACTG News Listserv" form. Thank you.]