About

The UCSB Financial Crisis Response Team exists to assist students who are facing a financial crisis or urgent financial need. Our team assists undergraduate and graduate students who are facing significant financial difficulties that jeopardize their path to graduation through emergency funding and resource connection. We work closely to evaluate, respond, and support students in crisis in a streamlined and timely manner.

Application Process

If you are experiencing a financial or housing crisis, email the Financial Crisis Response Team (FCRT) at financialcrisis@sa.ucsb.edu . If you are unsure if your situation falls into the parameters of the FCRT, contact us anyway, and we will happily connect you with the appropriate resources.

In your initial e-mail, please include your preferred name, PERM Number, best contact information, and any details of your situation that will help us develop a plan of action with you. The FCRT will attempt to respond to you within the next 1-2 business days. You will be asked to complete our online Crisis Application Form and, depending on the situation, may be asked to speak with a Basic Needs Advisor to discuss support options. An advisor will help guide you through the process.

Program Information

Crisis Application

The Financial Crisis Response Team maintains strict confidentiality over student information in accordance with FERPA requirements. Student information will not be shared with any outside parties, including police, other UCSB departments, and family members, except in the following circumstances:

1. The student requests that information be shared with an outside party and signs a release form allowing the FCRT to do so.
2. There are reasonable grounds to believe that the student is at risk of serious self-harm, at risk of harming another, or there is a serious risk to the safety of UCSB Community Members.
3. There is a legal obligation to disclose.
4. There is an obligation to disclose information under the UC Title IX Policy. More information about Title IX Policy can be found here: <https://titleix.ucsb.edu/policies-and-response-procedures/policies>

The Financial Crisis Response Team is not intended to be used as an ongoing resource. Students who experience continuous financial insecurity are strongly encouraged to meet with a financial aid officer in the Office of Financial Aid and Scholarships (OFAS) to discuss financial packages and budgeting options.

To be eligible for assistance from the Financial Crisis Response Team, students must be enrolled in the current term at UCSB. Students who have withdrawn, are on leave, have completed their graduation requirements, or are otherwise not attending any units are currently not eligible for emergency funding. Students who are academically disqualified or dismissed are also currently ineligible, unless they are participating in the Scholar Retention Program. Students who are not currently enrolled can always access Social Work at Student Health to navigate finances, health challenges, and community resources.

Emergency Grant and Loan Program

The Emergency Grant and Loan Program assists students who are facing significant financial difficulties that jeopardize their path to graduation through emergency funding. Emergency grant and loan options are available to both undergraduate and graduate students, including international and non-residential students, so long as all other eligibility criteria are met.

Emergency Grant and Loan Eligibility Requirements:

1. Students must be enrolled in at least half-time (6 units for Undergraduate Students and 4 units for Graduate Students)
2. To ensure that aid goes to those most in need first, students with a subsidized loan option are typically asked to access at least half of their subsidized loans before being considered for an Emergency Grant.

The amount of crisis funding administered is determined on a case by case basis. Several factors impact student support such as a student's current financial situation, their Expected Family Contribution, unmet need, and other available options. Therefore, two students who are in a similar crisis situation may receive slightly different amounts of crisis funding.

Transitional Housing Program

Transitional housing is intended to provide a temporary living space for students without safe or stable housing while they arrange permanent living situations for themselves. Transitional housing is provided at no cost to students. The maximum length of stay is 25 days from the date of check-in.

To be eligible for the Transitional Housing Program, students must be enrolled in the current quarter at UCSB.

Students staying in transitional housing are required to abide by all Financial Crisis Response Team Emergency Housing Terms and Conditions. Students must return a signed Housing Agreement form prior to check-in. Failure to uphold emergency housing terms and conditions may result in removal from transitional housing.

Pets are not currently permitted in Transitional Housing, therefore, students with pets will need to make other arrangements for their animals during their stay. Service animals are not considered pets. Arrangements will be made for students with service animals.

Food Security Assistance

Food Security Assistance Programs support students who are facing either long or short-term food insecurity. Adequate nutrition is essential for students to be able to succeed in the classroom environment, therefore, the Financial Crisis Response Team provides a number of support options for students in need. Our team works with students to determine the most appropriate food resources based on the student's current needs.

Students who are interested in applying for CalFresh should meet with a CalFresh Advisor at the Student Needs Advising Center (SNAC). More information can be found at <https://food.ucsb.edu/calfresh>

For additional food support, students are encouraged to take advantage of the on-campus AS Food Bank and the Miramar Food Pantry.

Additional Resources

Basic Needs Resources

For information about additional Basic Needs Resources on-campus and in the community, please see the UCSB Basic Needs Resource Guides. Demographic-specific student resource guides are also available to create a better transition-experience for undergraduate, transfer, graduate, and undocumented students here at UCSB.

FAQ

Q: When should I refer someone to the Financial Crisis Response Team?

A: If you know a student who is facing an immediate financial, housing, or food related crisis, please refer them to the Financial Crisis Response Team. If you are unsure if the FCRT is the right resource to send a student to, refer them to us anyway, and we can connect them with the best supports.

Q: How can I refer someone to the Financial Crisis Response Team?

A: To refer a student, have them email financialcrisis@sa.ucsb.edu. In the initial e-mail, please have them include their preferred name, PERM Number, and any details of the situation that will help us develop a plan of action. If you want to refer a student anonymously, simply email financialcrisis@sa.ucsb.edu with the student's name and contact info, and we will outreach to them.

Q: How is the amount of awarded funding determined?

A: The amount of crisis funding administered is determined on a case by case basis. Several factors impact student support such as a student's current financial situation, their Expected Family Contribution, unmet need, and other available options.

Q: Do I have to pay back crisis funding?

A: Emergency Housing Grants and Basic Needs Grants do not need to be repaid to the Financial Crisis Response Team. Institutional and Short-Term Loans do, however, need to be repaid to the university.

Q: How long does it take to receive crisis funding?

A: Funding allocated from the Financial Crisis Response Team is administered through BARC. Students who have signed up for direct deposit with BARC should expect to receive funds within 3-5 business days.

Q: Do I have to pay for Emergency Transitional Housing?

A: There is no cost to students for Transitional Housing stays.

Q: Are pets allowed in Transitional Housing?

A: Pets are not currently permitted in Transitional Housing, therefore, students with pets will need to make other arrangements for their animals during their stay. Service animals are not considered pets and are permitted in transitional housing.

Q: Is there storage space provided for Transitional Housing stays?

A: There is currently no provided storage space for students staying in transitional housing, however, the Financial Crisis Response Team may be able to assist students in need of furniture storage.
